About Project

GastroNet - Vocational Education and Training

Project number 2023-2-PL01-KA220-VET-000171447

An additional set of tools for vocational education and training in gastronomy to improve the proffesional situation of students on the labor market

Throughout our work, we want to show how to solve social problems. We want to contribute to increase the level of education of various social groups in countries where we are going to run our work and to have an influence on the integration processes between nations. We are certain that this is education which gives a chance to grow and makes the social differences smaller.

Intercultural dialogue is possible thanks to education. Thus, our work aims also at education and training, also in the aspect of international cooperation. We also want to propagate the knowledge about the people connected with the ideas of our foundation.

Our main focus are the groups at the risk of social exclusion with regards to labour marker such as disabled, NEETs, lowskilled adults and domestic violence victims. Our experts have expertise in higher education and adult education.

Acquiring new knowledge related to new technologies and sales techniques in order to better prepare the training plan • development of pedagogical innovation formulation of a training plan and outline for students of gastronomic schools.

Here you can find out what our project is. You will meet here:

• Objectives

Through the project and creation and then implementation of the training concept, we want to increase the competences of VET learners graduating from gastronomic schools in the field of sales techniques and customer acquisition based on new technologies and the Internet. Thanks to our training, they will improve their qualifications, which will make them more valuable to employers. Their sense of professional stability will also increase. Educators will also improve their competences.

• Implementation

The main activities of the project will be three workshops devoted to the exchange of experiences and new technologies, creating the concept and program of the training, and the formulation of the training plan and outline. Between the workshops will be conducted:

- Focus research
- Competency mapping
- Seminars on the Integrated Qualifications System
- Development of pedagogical innovation
- Multiplier event
- Whereas International Project Meetings will be used to manage the project.

• Results

The results we want to achieve are:

- exchange of experiences between partners, aimed at increasing the knowledge of the educational staff of the organizations participating in the project
- acquiring new knowledge related to new technologies and sales techniques in order to better prepare the training plan • preparation of a training concept for students of catering schools
- development of pedagogical innovation
- formulation of a training plan and outline for students of gastronomic schools.
